2.0 MARKET ANALYSIS	11
Introduction	11
Fleet parc – size, growth and segmentation	12
Overview	12
The UK’s fleet parc reached a five-year high of around 4.22 million vehicles in 2016	12
... having been propelled forwards by a surge in the number of light commercial vehicles	12
Passenger cars	14
The motor trade accounts for over a quarter of the fleet passenger car parc	14
... although well over 50% is due to the diverse ‘other’ segment	14
The number of cars owned by car clubs, car hire firms and taxi firms has been rising rapidly	14
... although the first of these remains a very small segment in the overall market	15
Commercial vehicles	17
The largest specific commercial vehicle segment is that of road haulage for customers	17
Growth in commercial vehicles occurred across most segments between 2012 and 2016	18
Fleet size brackets	20
The UK’s fleet vehicle parc segments quite evenly by fleet size	20
Fleet motor insurance – size, growth and segmentation	22
Overview	22
Premiums for all vehicle categories other than light commercial vehicles fell from 2012 to 2016	22
... although fleet motor insurance still grew as a proportion of total motor insurance	22

FLEET INSURANCE AND ASSISTANCE IN THE UK

Passenger car fleet motor insurance	24
Car hire firms comprise the largest specific passenger car segment by premiums	24
... albeit that of car clubs is the only one for which premiums have been growing	24
Commercial vehicle fleet motor insurance	27
The various commercial vehicle segments experienced mixed fortunes between 2012 and 2016	27
Fleet size brackets	30
Small fleets (with six to 50 vehicles) comprise the largest segment of the market by value	30
Fleet assistance – size and growth	32
Assistance for commercial vehicle fleets is the dominant segment in the UK market	32
Distribution partnerships for fleet insurance and assistance	34
Motor insurance	34
Schemes for motor insurance are relatively common among car sharing firms and trade associations	34
... but much less so among leasing companies	34
Most schemes are set up with either a single, external broker or underwriter	35
The UK market for fleet motor insurance partnerships is a highly fragmented one	36
GAP insurance	38
Fleet GAP insurance is available from a number of leasing companies and brokers	38
... with use of single, external brokers again proving to be the most popular operating model	38
Premia Solutions is likely to be the leading provider in this field	39
Road assistance	41
At least a half of organisations researched in each category offer road assistance	41
... with most initiatives having been established directly with assistance firms	41
The AA and the RAC are clearly the dominant providers in this sector	42
Fleet motor insurance - forecast	44
Overview	44
Up to 2020, premiums are expected to rise in both the light and heavy commercial vehicle categories	44
Passenger cars	45
... but may stagnate in the case of fleet passenger cars	45
Van and lorry hire firms are likely to deliver the best growth in the category of commercial vehicles	47
Fleet road assistance - forecast	49
Steady growth is predicted for the UK's market for fleet road assistance	49
Future impact of car sharing and driverless cars	51
A global trend in favour of car sharing will affect the passenger car fleet market, in particular	51
Driverless cars are expected to have more of an impact in the medium-term to long-term future	51
