0.0 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY .....	2
Research background and structure .....	2
Take-up rates are highest for personal liability insurance, motor insurance and household insurance .....	2
Face-to-face transactions are clearly declining in importance as a distribution interface... partly as a consequence of rising utilisation of the Internet for a majority of financial products .....	2
More than a quarter of sales of funeral expenses insurance are initiated by inbound telephone calls .....	3
... while the effectiveness of outbound telephone sales is increasing for a number of products .....	3
Acquisition by post is growing for only around a half of the financial products considered .....	3
In a majority of cases, there is an increasing trend away from direct sales in financial services ... ..	4
... albeit traditional insurance agents are the biggest losers as distribution systems evolve .....	4
To differing extents, commercial organisations have made some progress as distribution partners .....	5
... although the German Post Office has yet to realise its potential in the insurance sector ... ..	6
... and the entry of supermarkets into financial services remains at a relatively early stage .....	6
Worksite marketing is hindered by an under-developed market for employee benefits in Germany ..	7
Distribution systems are gradually evolving in Germany although the dynamics are complex .....	7

2.0 CHANNEL COMPARISONS .....	19
Introduction .....	19
Overall customer take-up rates, 2008 .....	21
Over two thirds of respondents possess personal liability insurance and motor insurance .....	21
Brand new purchases, 2008 .....	23
Personal accident insurance records the highest proportion of brand new sales in 2008 .....	23
Switching rates - 2008 .....	25
Switching rates for motor insurance dwarf those for other financial services.....	25
... whether measured in terms of all consumers or current customers .....	27
Face-to-face environment .....	29
Almost 80% of customers take out car finance contracts in a face-to-face environment .....	29
Face-to-face transactions are declining in importance for all types of financial product.....	29
Internet .....	31
In all but four cases, the Internet is increasing in importance as a distribution interface .....	31
Inbound telephone .....	33
Inbound telephone calls account for more than 20% of transactions in only one case.....	33

... although their importance is increasing for a majority of financial products .....	33
Outbound telephone .....	35
Outbound telesales programs account for a share of transactions above 10% in four cases... ..	35
... and their effectiveness appears to be increasing for a majority of financial services.....	35
Post .....	37
The post is used as a distribution interface across all financial products considered... ..	37
... but experiences increasing utilization for only around a half of those investigated.....	37
Generic distribution channels - 2008 and all previous years compared .....	39
Direct sales .....	39
The direct channel accounts for more than 60% of sales for five of the products reviewed .....	39
... although seems to be declining in importance over time for a majority of financial services .....	39
Financial intermediaries .....	41
In three cases, financial intermediaries account for more than half of the share of sales... ..	41
Financial partners .....	43
Financial partners account for more than a third of sales in four instances .....	43
Not-for-profit affinity groups.....	45
Not-for-profit affinity groups constitute a viable channel for some financial services... ..	45
Non-financial commercial partners .....	47
Non-financial commercial partners are especially influential for certain financial services... ..	47
... including financial products linked to car ownership and travel .....	47
The worksite .....	49
Only a small percentage of sales of financial products are achieved through employers.....	49
Specific distribution channels - 2008 and all previous years compared .....	51
Financial intermediaries .....	51
Insurance agents .....	51
Insurance agents hold a high share across the spectrum of insurance products... ..	51
Insurance, loan and mortgage brokers.....	53
Financial brokers account for at least 20% of all sales for five different products... ..	53
... with their presence increasing for some products while declining for others.....	53
Online aggregators and price comparison providers.....	55
Online brokers are becoming an important distribution channel for motor insurance.....	55
Financial partners.....	57
Private banks (acting as direct providers and partners) .....	57
Banks are the dominant provider of payment protection insurance .....	57
...and are gaining ground in several other areas.....	57
Co-operative banks (acting as direct providers and partners) .....	59
Co-operative banks are becoming more important as distributors of insurance products... ..	59
... albeit they appear to be losing ground in their core banking markets.....	59
Credit card companies (acting as partners) .....	61
Credit card companies hold a small distribution share for several financial services .....	61
Savings banks (acting as direct providers and partners).....	62
Savings banks are making progress as distributors of insurance products... ..	62
... with a strong performance visible in the case of funeral expenses insurance .....	62
Not-for-profit affinity groups.....	64
Automotive clubs.....	64
Automotive clubs can be used to distribute financial services linked to car ownership .....	64
Charities .....	65
Charities constitute a minor distribution channel for financial services .....	65
Professional and trade associations.....	67
Professional and trade associations offer a broad array of financial services.....	67
Trade unions .....	68
Trade unions are most significant as distributors of funeral expenses and long-term care insurance	68
Non-financial commercial partners .....	70
General automotive clubs.....	70

General automotive clubs are effective distributors of several types of financial product .....	70
Car dealers and manufacturers .....	72
The automotive trade holds a distribution share of more than half for core financial services... ..	72
... but is struggling to make an impact in the highly competitive motor insurance sector .....	72
Football and other sports clubs .....	73
Football and other sports clubs can offer no more than a niche distribution opportunity.....	73
Loyalty programs .....	74
Loyalty schemes achieve a measurable distribution share in 2008 for nine products.....	74
Newspapers, magazines and other media entities .....	76
Media affinities achieve the highest rates of utilisation in 2008 for savings bonds .....	76
The Post Office .....	78
Germany's Post Office has yet to realise its potential for distributing insurance products .....	78
Supermarkets .....	80
The impact of supermarkets in distribution of financial services remains very limited... ..	80
... although there is some evidence to suggest that it may be growing .....	80
Catalogue and other retailers .....	82
Catalogue and other retailers offer a viable niche channel for a variety of financial services .....	82
Utilities .....	84
Utilities occasionally collaborate with insurers for direct marketing programs.....	84
Sector-specific distribution channels .....	85
Airlines and travel companies are reasonably significant distributors of travel insurance .....	85
Estate agents occupy a peripheral position as distributors in the market for mortgages .....	85
